Personal Profile

An all round nurtured human of high integrity from my formative years. I have a strong foundation in moral values as well as academic excellence grounded from the Catholic Social Teachings. To the community, I have successfully journeyed with young people through counseling, studying their behavioral patterns, encouraging behavioral change with enhanced pastoral care. I have also walked along with old and aged for care giving, spiritual nourishment as well as offering companionship and emotional support. Through my analytical skills, I have successfully collected, analysed and composed comprehensive reports for presentation and action taking.
